Tribute from April Eldridge

Relation: Granddaughter

Grandmothers are the hearts that heal our souls. I loved that my grandma would always call me Tyres, and loved me unconditionally. We talked about going to a winery in Canada because they had the best. While we didn't get to do that, we had so many memories of my childhood. I loved when she'd take my brothers and I to the candy shop on the camp ground and she'd always let me eat the blue shark candies. I also remember when she let me snag a t-shirt from the shop of a cat that was laying on its back looking as though it was enjoying the sun on the beach. I would constantly wear it until I grew out of it. I also remember when we went to Disney and at the time I was in my Hannah Montana phase and she got me a Hannah Montana wig that I would also constantly wear.

Grandparents are our blessings and my grandma was one of my favorites. We spoke a lot in her last days and I will forever cherish the talks we had.
