Tribute from Marion Boyd

Relation: friend

I will never forget sharing a hospital bed with Corrie at the birth of our children, Monica and Robert. Everyone knows the story of the mix up at birth where Corrie fed Monica. Not everyone knows the absolute love and devotion she brought to her little son. She couldn't stop bubbling and hugging and her delight never ceased. She was a fine example within both her family and the community. She will be deeply missed. Sincerely, Marion

Tribute from Jim MacNaughton

Dear Gerard, Lia and Bob, Robert- Sometime has gone by since Corrie's passing, and I am a long ways away and news comes here late as my Oliver Chronicle is sometimes 3 weeks late. I wanted to express firstly my sympathy for your loss, Corrie was a tower of strength for all of you and I look back on the years as she and Gerard started the business and her work in Oliver United Church and then the Congregational church with fond memories. Corrie could move mountains with her very positive outlook on life and the principles she lived by never wavered- she and I may not always have agreed on everything but she was my friend. I have missed all of you as Cape Breton is a long ways from Oliver, but my wife Barb and I have made a new life here and believe it or not even in retirement I have been put back to work running a 3 point charge for the United Church in Inverness, Mabou(home of the Rankins) and Port Hood(the place where Luc and Joyce Hensburgen began their married lives)... I extend a warm hug to all of you.. Blessings... Jim MacNaughton
