Tribute from Diane and Phil Laprairie

Relation: Family friend.

Sorry for your loss Andrea and family, we have good memories camping with your dad and mom. Everybody would wait until John parked his trailer and then try to be out of range of his mighty snoring. May all childhood memories bring you some peace, RIP John

Tribute from Mark Langen

Relation: Friend

We camped many times together when the kids were little. Played dice til the middle of the night, had giant campfires, awesome food and sometimes the most fun was trying to find the campground that John had discovered for the newest adventure. Lost touch over the years as it too often happens, but the memories and laughs continue on. Our condolences to the family and may your hearts be lightened a little bit by some of the good memories from years gone by. Rest in Peace John!

Tribute from Kathy Sadleir Pangratis

Relation: Old friends

So sad. I grew up with John from elementary and up. Lost touch with him after high school. Ran into him again years later when our sons were in basketball. I reconnected with him again a couple of years ago when I tracked him down in Oliver. Tried speaking on phone every few months. Was able to get together with him for lunch this summer when my husband and I visited the Okanagan,

I spoke with John about 2.5 weeks ago.
It was an upbeat kind of conversation. He was so happy to have his son back in Alberta again.
I feel sad. He was one of my oldest friends.
My condolences to his family,

Tribute from Dawnee Fossey

Relation: friend

We are so sorry for your loss. Tony has known John since elementary school and I for decades. We were great friends in our early adult years and shared a lot of fun times with our young families. Life happened and we drifted apart but, still feel the sadness of John's passing.

Tribute from Sandi (Chapman) Novlesky

Relation: Friend

I also knew John from our school years. Growing up in Altadore, many bonds were formed around neighborhood games and shenanigans! As teenagers, we hung out and supported each other. None more intensely, or with more heart, than John! Such a likeable guy! He will be missed. My condolences to his family. May he rest peacefully!
